RPT - Report Taken The manager of the bank called to report that she was approached by two customers advising of a suspicious female in the parking lot of the business. The vehicle was backed in to a parking spot on the exit side of parking lot. The customers reported that there was dark colored ski mask seen hanging from the rearview mirror. The vehicle was described as being a smaller sized black SUV; like a Honda CRV or Hyundai Santa Fe. A plate number or state of registration was not known at the time of this report. The female was described as being white with a shaved head except for a ponytail extending from the top of her head. The described female never came in to the building or used the drive-thru for any banking transactions. The manager was uncertain of the female's intentions and felt that she might be casing the bank. I informed the manager that I would let the other officers know about this activity and assign directed patrol for the bank to be checked at random times.
